STATE MASTER HORSE
SHOERS ELECT OFFICERS.

Movement to Advance Price of Horseshoeing to Minimum of $2.

The Master Horseshoers' association of Connecticut at its annual convention in New Haven Wednesday elected officers as follows: President, W. H. Shannon, Hartford; vice president, Arthur Teson, Storrs; secretary, Sullivan, New Haven; secretary-treasurer, George Milne, Rockville.

The session opened with the reading of the annual local report by A. J. Laventure, president of the New Haven local, which was followed by the reading of the state report by William H. Shannon of Hartford, president of the state organization. An address by C. J. McGuinness of Brooklyn, secretary of the national order of horseshoers, was also a prominent feature of the early stages of the convention.

A movement for advancing the price of horseshoeing to a minimum of $2 was a proposal introduced into the proceedings, which called for considerable discussion, the majority of the delegates present expressing themselves as believing that the move would be justified in view of the high prices they are now obliged to pay for material. The charge at present for shoeing varies from $1.25 to $1.50.

The horse versus the automobile was discussed and a notable tribute to horse flesh was paid by the various delegates. It was pointed out that the automobile can never entirely replace the horse and that despite the number of years ago. The horse will be always in demand, it was stated, and for that very reason the horseshoers' association should maintain its membership and power year by year.

Last year C. M. Adams of Danielson was secretary and treasurer of the association.
